

Emergency Trainee Procedures Workshop

Wednesday 18 June 2025
Wednesday 24 September 2025

This workshop featuring cadaveric, live and synthetic models will assist in equipping ACEM Late Phase Advanced Trainees and Peri-Fellowship Registrars with procedural skills for medical emergencies. Key procedures covered include ICC insertion, difficult airway management, suprapubic insertion, nerve blocks and CVC line insertion utilising ultrasound.

This intensive hands-on skills training workshop aims to increase the knowledge and confidence of participants to perform a range of procedures including those which are not routinely performed in the clinical setting. Participants will benefit from the expertise of senior faculty from Emergency Medicine.

The workshop covers a number of procedures of particular relevance for Emergency Medicine Trainees in peripheral, regional or austere environments. It is specifically designed for doctors working in emergency settings. This workshop is
