Core Skills: Workshop in Neck Dissection for Thyroid Carcinoma

Thursday 17 October 2019

Workshop Content
There will be two participants per senior cadaveric work station (those at Fellow and Consultant level).

Limited places are available for RMOs, Service Registrars and SET Trainees in General Surgery and Head and Neck Surgery, with three participants per junior cadaveric work station. Limited places are also available for Theatre Nurses in the role of assistant.

Presentations and practical cadaveric sessions cover the following procedures.
- Sternocleidomastoid muscle (SCM) dissection
- Posterior triangle
- Control of the thoracic duct
- Contralateral modified radical neck dissection
- Thyroidectomy
- Central neck dissection

Video presentations of the following techniques are also included:
- Skin flap and SCM dissection
- CN XI and posterior triangle (spinal accessory nerve)
- Dissection of the carotid sheath

The Core Skills: Workshop in Neck Dissection for Thyroid Carcinoma aims to increase the comfort and expertise of the participant when performing neck dissection.

This highly practical cadaveric workshop features concurrent full day Junior and Senior participant practical sessions in the steps and techniques of radical neck dissection for thyroid carcinoma. An expert Faculty will mentor the dissection and provide expert, practical feedback to participants. Each session is tailored to provided participants with appropriate surgical training for their level of ability and skill set. The workshop includes an interactive faculty panel discussion covering expert advice and alternative radical neck dissection techniques.

The cadaveric models provide excellent anatomical realism and near normal tissue properties for repeated practise.
